

New Jersey Tax Guide

Starting a Business in New Jersey

The State of New Jersey is open for business. We are here to help you succeed.

We know that starting a business is not an easy undertaking. It involves hours of research, creating a business plan, choosing a type of business, licensing and permits. It can seem overwhelming. That's why the New Jersey Business Portal's One-Stop Shop for Business is a great place to start whether you're poised to open, grow or relocate your business.

Before Registering A Business

There are several important steps that should be taken before registering a business:

- Choose the type of business structure that fits your ownership and business plan;
- Check here to determine if there are licensing requirements (e.g., daycare providers, contractors, etc.) for your business;
- Contact the Small Business Development Centers and other free/low cost resources for advice;
- Seek legal advice if needed to determine which type of business structure to select.

Registering Your Business

Make sure the business (trade) name is available:

- a. Sole Proprietors and Partnerships register trade names with their county
- b. Corporations, LLCs and other legal structures complete a Public Record Filing (Fee required); and

Get a free Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN).

You must report your Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN) or your Social Security number on the application. You will be assigned a 12-digit New Jersey Taxpayer Identification Number that corresponds with your FEIN/SSN, with a three-digit suffix of '000'. It is important that you include this number on all returns, payments, and other correspondence that you send to us.

If you haven't already obtained your FEIN, visit the IRS Web Site for information on completing Federal Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number.

All general partnerships, corporations, LLCs, LLPs, or LPs must get a FEIN from the IRS.

A sole proprietor can use the owner's Social Security number or an FEIN. The only time they are required to obtain an EIN is if the business:

- Will have employees;
- Wants to open a bank account; or
- Wants to register a company vehicle.

Complete Form NJ-REG

You must register the business with the State of New Jersey at least 15 business days prior to opening. This enables us to send you the forms and information necessary for you to comply with New Jersey tax laws

The New Jersey Complete Business Registration Package contains:

- Application for Business Registration, Form NJ-REG;
- Applications for Motor Fuel and Cigarette Licenses; and
- The State of New Jersey New Hire Reporting Form.

Employers must complete the New Hire Reporting Form for all employees at the time of hiring. The State uses the information from this report to:

- Locate parents who owe child support;
- Check income information for those receiving public assistance or unemployment.

If you plan to incorporate your business, you must obtain a charter from the New Jersey Division of Revenue and Enterprise Services, Business Services Bureau. If your business is incorporated in another state, you must also request authorization to do business in New Jersey. You can contact the Division of Revenue, Business Services Bureau for assistance at (609) 292-9292.

If you are a Corporation electing to be treated as S Corporation only, you must:

- File Federal Form 2553 to elect Federal S-Corporation status; and
- File Form CBT-2553, to elect New Jersey S Corporation status.

If you are buying an existing business, you must notify the State of New Jersey Bulk Sales Section at least ten days before the sale.

Changes to Your Business Registration

Sometimes, it is necessary to make changes to your business. You must file the REG-C-L if you wish to make any of the following changes to your business:

- Adding or removing tax eligibilities;
- A change in identification information (e.g., name, trade, location address, or FEIN);
- A change in filing or business activity;
- A change in corporate officers; and/or
- Replacing your temporary Taxpayer Identification Number with your official Taxpayer Identification Number (e.g., your FEIN).

You must file a new NJ-REG if you wish to make any of the following changes to your business:

- Whenever business ownership changes;
- When a merger occurs. The surviving entity completes a new NJ-REG; or
- Opening additional locations for an existing business.

For more information, visit the Division of Revenue's website.

Business Taxes and Fees

Corporation

Corporations registered with New Jersey are required to file the CBT-100 or CBT-100S returns annually. This applies both to corporations formed in New Jersey and foreign (out-of-state) corporations.

For more information about Corporation Business Tax filing responsibilities, click here.

Partnership

Partnerships with income or losses sourced to New Jersey, or which have a New Jersey resident partner, are required to file the NJ-1065 return annually. Partnerships that withhold tax on behalf of their nonresident partners are required to file the NJ-CBT-1065 in addition to the NJ-1065.

For more information about Partnership filing responsibilities, click here.

Sole Proprietor/Single Member Limited Liability Company (LLC)

Sole proprietors and single member LLCs do not file a business Income Tax return. They are treated as individuals for Income Tax purposes, and must file an NJ-1040 or NJ-1040NR return to report and remit any net profit earned from the business.

Sales Tax. In general, every New Jersey business selling taxable items or services must collect and remit New Jersey Sales and Use Tax when sales are completed by delivery to a New Jersey location or performance of the service in this State.

If you indicated on your NJ-REG that you will be collecting Sales Tax, remitting Use Tax, or using New Jersey Exemption Certificates, the State of New Jersey will send you a New Jersey Certificate of Authority for Sales Tax. This is your permit to collect Sales Tax, and to issue and receive exemption certificates. The New Jersey Certificate of Authority must be displayed at your place of business.

For more information on Sales and Use Tax, click here.

Employer Withholdings. As a New Jersey employer, you are required to withhold New Jersey Income Tax from wages paid to all New Jersey resident and nonresident employees physically working in this State. Pennsylvania residents are the only out-of-state residents exempt from New Jersey withholdings.

For Employer Withholding instructions, click here.

Unemployment Insurance/Disability Insurance/Family Leave Insurance. As a New Jersey employer, you may be required to withhold and remit Unemployment Insurance, Disability Insurance, and/or Family Leave Insurance on behalf of your employees. For more information, contact the New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development.
